Clerk, Chief, Mayor get new terms

3 Pahokee incumbents unopposed

PAHOKEE—Chief of Police Carmen "Skeets" Salvatore III, Mayor Duncan Padgett and City Clerk Betty McCoy will each serve two more years in office.

The three incumbents remained unopposed as the qualification deadline for the May 8 municipal election passed on Friday, April 6.

Seven candidates have qualified for the three commission seats which will be up for grabs. Council President Ada Conley defends her seat against Bill Johnson Jr. and Incumbent Jon Mock vies for a third council term against Curtis Miners.

Ronnie Graydon's group one seat is the most heavily contested. Graydon is running against Glenn Carrick and Edward Leg, the last candidate to qualify.

With the lack of an opponent, Padgett gains his second consecutive term as mayor after resuming the post he has held for 20 years. He retired as mayor in 1980, but was appointed by the council to regain his seat a year-and-a-half later.

Padgett said of his latest victory, "It feels great."

Candidates forum set

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee's Lion's Club will be holding a candidate's forum at noon, Tuesday, April 10 at the Lake Club.

All seven city council candidates have been invited to speak at the luncheon event, which has become an annual Lion's Club program. The event is open to the public, but non-club members must make reservations at the Lion's Club before Monday and will be charged for their lunch.

City Clerk McCoy gained her seventh consecutive term as clerk. Only once has she been opposed in an election.

An employee of the city in some capacity since 1964, McCoy said, "I guess it's in my blood."

McCoy said her goals for the next two years include fully utilizing the city's new computer system. Hopefully, the computer will help the clerk's office continue to upgrade its efficiency, she said.

Chief of Police Salvatore will continue his 15-year tenure as head of the police force.

Salvatore shrugged off the lack of an opponent for his position, saying with a laugh, "I don't know who would want my job."

Among goals, Salvatore said, are improving the community's attitude toward police officers and improving the attitude within the force.

Legal action considered over lease

BELLE GLADE—The city may take legal action against the former tenants of the Belle Glade Country Club, if the organization does not pay its estimated $8,000 debt.

City commissioners voted, in their regular meeting Monday, April 9, to send a letter to the Elden Corp., the company which vacated the country club in April 1983 because of lack of funds.

Commissioner George Goforth Jr. said he did not want to take legal action, unless the city had a chance to win its money back. "I'd hate to sue a corporation that don't have nothing," he said, pointing at the about $1,500 the city would spend to bring legal action against the company.

Mayor Thomas Altman recommended the city take legal action, only if the corporation was still active. Such activity, he said, would probably be an indication the organization has money somewhere.

City Attorney John Baker said there were rumours floating around to the effect that the Elden Corp. was still in business. He said he would attempt to verify these rumours.

Baker told commissioners he had contacted the corporation several times about fulfilling their debt, but had not received a sufficient answer.

In other agenda items:

Remar Harvin, planning and community development director, told commissioners staff efforts to update the city's five-year planning report are progressing well.

The first draft on the report has been completed and a public hearing on the draft is scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 24 in Belle Glade City Hall. The plan will not go directly before the commission until sometime this summer.

Harvin said the plan will have the biggest effect on future land use and housing development. He recommended the state mandated plan be updated every year.

John Cumming, project manager for W.E. Briley, Wild&Associates, reported the city's water treatment plant expansion should be totally completed sometime in May or early June.

Quality of water will not immediately improve, upon completion of the new plant, Cumming said. "It's going to take some time to happen," he said.

2 injured in accident

BELLE GLADE—A two-car collision on N.W. Ave. L in Belle Glade, Monday, April 9, left one passenger in each car injured.

Jacqueline A. Tullos, 14, 224 N.W. Ave. J, Belle Glade, and Dieuseul Fevrier, 39, 423 S.W. Ave. B, Belle Glade, were rushed to Glades General Hospital by ambulance after the accident at the corner of N.W. Ave. L and N.W. 12th St.

Fevrier was released from Glades General Monday. Tullos was transferred to Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach.

According to a report filed by Patrolman Aurelio Rodriguez of the Belle Glade Police

TWO people were injured in this accident, Monday, April 9 on N.W. Ave. L.

Murder of girlfriend charged

PAHOKEE—A man was charged with the first degree homicide of his girl friend in Pahokee, on Wednesday, April 4.

Glades Substation Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department officials arrested Hezekiah Lewis, 46, 170 W. Third St. Apt. 4, Pahokee, for the murder of Madeline Downer, 22, 170 W. Third St. Apt. 6.

Officer E. Bryant of the Pahokee Police Department reported that he found Downer's body on the floor of her apartment at about 8 p.m. She had been shot in the chest, and was rushed to Everglades Memorial Hospital where she was pronounced dead upon arrival.

Lewis came to the Pahokee Police Department later Wednesday with a friend who told police that Lewis said he had shot his girl friend, according to Sheriff's Detective Rick Radford, the reporting officer in the case.

BELLE GLADE—Local adults are needed to serve as personal mentors for creative students in the Glades, Belle Glade Rotary Club members were told at their meeting, Tuesday, April 3.

Joseph Shapiro, coordinator of the Palm Beach County School Board's Senior Mentors for Creative Students program, asked rotarians and other adults to give a couple hours a week to one-on-one sessions with area youth. "I'm going to show each of you how to reach immortality," he said.

The senior mentor program involves 16 creative students from the Glades, from Glades Central Community High School, East Lake Middle School, Gladesview Elementary and Gove Elementary. These students were picked by program administrators because of their creative talents.

So far, only one Glades resident has offered to be a mentor, Shapiro said.

"You've got the time ... We want your help," he said.

Mentors are asked to attend a brief training center before meeting with their student, according to the school board's program guide. The mentor and the student, in their initial meetings, pick a project of some type to be completed in the next ten weeks.

The school board's guide advises mentors to listen to the thoughts and feelings of the students and to encourage their protégé to express him or herself creatively.

Shapiro said he tries to match students' interests with mentors. Hopefully, the mentors will push the students toward pursuing their interests. He told one story of a fifth grader who liked to write and with the help of her mentor wrote and then put together an one-act play.

The joy and tragedy of Easter

As Jerusalem drew near Jesus, the teacher from Nazareth, sent two disciples to get a donkey for Him to ride into the city. This was to fulfill the prophecy, "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion! Shout aloud, O daughter of Jerusalem! Lo, your king comes to you; triumphant and victorious is he, humble and riding on an ass, on the colt the foal of an ass." Zechariah 9:9.

Thus began a strange parade. The disciples became excited; for two or more years they had waited for Jesus' proclamation that the Kingdom of God was at hand. James and John expected to be left at the left and right hand places.

Perhaps now the wandering band would head quarter in Jerusalem instead of walking back and forth and up and down the Jordan. At least the 12 would receive recognition from the other rabbis instead of sneers and jeers.

As the parade progressed its joyous way a young lad joined the throng. He had met Jesus on a hillside beside the sea. His lunch of five loaves and two fishes had fed 5,000. His master was to be King of Jerusalem.

A man whose life had seemed to be over walked uprightly close to the riding teacher. For years he had been an outcast forced to shout "unclean!" until the quiet Galilean had healed him and nine others. He had not ceased to be grateful nor following the one who had given new purpose to his life.

Going before the procession were a happy father and his son. For years the father had sought cure for the boy who had fits and would fall into fire or into water.

Even the disciples of the miracle worker could not heal the boy, but when Jesus had come down from the mountain top experience. He cured the boy immediately. Now the two sang "Hosanna to the Son of David."

Leaping and singing came the man who had been blind since birth. The former paralytic waved palm branches. Life was full and had meaning since they had been cured in body and soul.

All was not joyous in Jerusalem. The Roman soldiers quietly watched the thrashing crowd winds its way through the streets of Jerusalem toward the Temple. They thought another rabble rouser, won't these Galileans ever stop.

The Pharisees were frowning. The common men were following a perverter of the Sabbath. His disciples did not wash their hands before eating. The leader will even touch the unclean on the holy day.

Trying to ignore the multitude of the parade were the Sadducees. They controlled the Temple and its revenue. What would be the result if the people revolted and refused to buy their sacrificial animals from the courtyard sellers. Could this vagabond preacher threaten their income and security?

The majority sang and waved palm branches. Their voices echoed through the Holy City. Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

The stones of the city that had seen the blood of prophets welcomed the prophet from Nazareth. The gates of the city opened wide to greet the new king. The wailing wall sang joyously. The porch of Solomon remembered the glorious words of the psalmist about the King of glory, "Lift up your heads, O gates! and be lifted up, O ancient doors! that the King of glory may come in! Who is this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory!" Psalms 24: 9, 10.

The crowds on this pre-Easter welcomed to the City of David, Jesus the Prophet of Nazareth of Galilee. Dark clouds were soon to appear on this great day.

The coronation was to take place outside the city on the ugly hillside, Golgotha. However, God had planned that the joy and tragedy would result in the victory of the empty tomb. Love would and did triumph over hate and evil, and man can live gloriously.

Mobile home park water hookup allowed

PAHOKEE -- The Pahokee City Council agreed to allow a proposed mobile home park outside city limits to hook-up with the city's water system.

Council members, at their meeting on Tuesday, April 10, voted 3-2 to allow developers of the park to use city water. Ada Conley, Walter Rashley and Jon Meck voted in favor of the water hookup, while Ronnie Graydon and William E. McKinstry opposed the hookup.

McKinstry and Graydon said they wanted to wait until the city engineer could advise the council whether to approve a related proposal which would be designed to allow developers to hook on to the city's sewage system.

The developers, represented by Ray Hattson II and Barney Richmond, requested that council allow water hookup so that plans with the lot can be continued. Hattson said he hopes ground can be broken some time this summer on the 70-unit project.

To enable hookup to the city's sewage system, the developers proposed diverting funds to help repair sewage lines along East Fifth Street and thus enable the Department of Environmental Regulations to lift the moratorium on new sewage hookups. Once the moratorium was lifted, according to the developers' proposal, the city would allow the new lot to hook on to the sewage system.

Richmond said that if sewage hookup is not allowed, developers would be forced to build and run their own private treatment plant.

Jim Suddarth, of Russell and Axon Engineers, representing the city, said the developers' proposal would benefit the city; if they could be assured that DER would lift their moratorium after lines had been repaired.

"If the line looks as bad as I think it is, it'll be a good deal. If it doesn't, it won't," he said. The developers and Suddarth agreed to meet and check the line next Wednesday night, April 18.

Mayor Duncan Padgett said he thought the city should move to fix all of its sewage lines. The continual problems with the lines is severely restricting growth, he stated.

"I'd look for a contractor tomorrow, if I had the money and stop those leaks now," Padgett said.

In other business: Council members rescinded an earlier motion to consider proposals for a new engineering firm. Councilman Ronnie Graydon, who originally moved to advertise for a new firm in a March 13 meeting, suggested the city put applications received on file for future reference. Graydon said he had reconsidered his position after hearing other council members' concerns about hiring a new engineer.

The council agreed to pay about $1,700 in a collective electric bill for Prince Theater.

Julia Johnson, member of the theater committee, told the council that the current committee had inherited a bill of about $900 bill. Adding on to that amount is a monthly rate of about $200, she said. Committee members indicated the theater would have a better chance of paying its own way, if it were given a clean slate.

Officer Mike Harlow, of the Pahokee Police Department, reported he hoped to organize a barbecue for election day, Tuesday, May 8 to help raise funds for the department's K-9 division. Harlow said he has also received several donations toward development of the K-9 division.

Cumming also reported wastewater treatment plant improvements are over 74 percent completed. Construction of the raw water pump station is complete and should be ready for operation upon inspection, Cumming added.

In related action, commissioners approved a total of about $201,488 in progress payments for work on the water treatment plant, pump station and pollution control facility.

Strang introduced the city's new utilities director, Paul Eggleston to commissioners. Eggleston, formerly utilities director for the city of Kissimmee, began his new duties, Monday, April 2.

Commissioners will tour the city's utility facilities on Monday, April 16 at 9 a.m. and then discuss needed equipment.

Commissioners approved execution of the plat which will expand the Arrowhead Estates subdivision.

The commission approved a request to rezone three acres of land adjacent to Belle Glade Bowl to enable the use of the property as a mobile home sales lot.

Thomas Bonavia, representing the owner of the land Carbon Investments, told commissioners his company still hopes to sell the land in the near future to General Motors as an auto dealership. The mobile home sales lot would be a temporary arrangement, he added.

Commissioners voted to hold a new hearing Monday, May 14 at 8 p.m. on a request to rezone a lot near Indian Mounds along SR 715 to business from residential. New information presented to the commission was cited as a reason for the new hearing. The commission had originally denied the zoning request, made in February by landowner Doris Wilson.

Burnable trash warning issued

PAHOKEE -- With the closing of the county landfill site this weekend, residents should take extra care to separate burnable trash from non-combustible trash, according to the Pahokee public works director.

Richard Mount said the city will pick up all non-burnable items, such as appliances and furniture on the first Wednesday of each month to be hauled to the landfill in Belle Glade.

Burnable items, including lawn clippings and wood items, will be picked up once a week and disposed of at the city dump, Mount said.

"The only limitations there are with this are the imaginations of the people involved," Shapiro said.

The program is unstructured as the goal is not so much to teach kids in a classroom atmosphere, but to let them use their creativity. Shapiro said, "We're out to teach these kids how to back out a blind alley," he summarized.

One of the most important things the students get out of the programs is someone who will be a teacher, an advisor and a friend, Shapiro said.

The senior mentor program started in six Florida counties back in the fall. Shapiro said the program has gone fairly well on the coast.

Those interested in participating in the senior mentor program can contact either Shapiro at 684-6111, or Dr. Effie Grear at Glades Central Community High School, 996-4945.

Lee qualifies for Pahokee council election

PAHOKEE —Edward Lee became the first man to qualify for the May 8 municipal election, as he filed for the council seat currently held by Ronnie Graydon, on Thursday, April 12. Lee, 51, 2597 Bacom Pointe Road, becomes the third candidate to qualify for the group one seat along with Graydon and Glenn Carrick. "I think it's an excellent opportunity to get to know the people and I hope to do something for them," said Lee, a resident of Pahokee for three years. A group of local citizens asked him to run for the council, he added.

The city manager issue is probably the biggest topic in the election. Lee said, adding he was opposed to a manager. The current mayor-council form of government can be an effective system for a town of Pahokee's size, he said. Another issue of importance is the 50-year marina lease, which Lee said seemed too long. He added he was looking into this and other issues to help determine his campaign platform. Lee also said he totally supported plans to build a new high school in Pahokee and was opposed to selling liquor within the city limits on Sunday. Formerly from Maryland, Lee was an educational director for a credit union. He is now retired.

Cocaine, guns seized

BELLE GLADE —Police confiscated two guns, a small amount of money and various drugs after executing a search warrant, Tuesday, April 10.

Detective John Carney reported no arrests had been made, but added police are currently pursuing the suspect, who was not at home at the time of the search. Among the charges to be filed against the man are possession of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to sell, possession of narcotics paraphernalia and weapons charges.

Carney said he, Detective Albert Dowdell and Officer T.D. Murray forced their way into the apartment, 521 S.W. Ave. B Place, second floor southwest unit, at about 10 a.m. Tuesday. Upon searching they discovered undetermined amounts of marijuana, cocaine packaged to be sold for freebase and a substance believed to be either opium or heroin, Carney said. All drugs will be sent to the West Palm Beach laboratory where they will be tested and weighed.

A .30 calibre rifle was found in the ceiling of the apartment and an automatic handgun was also found, Carney said.

In another Belle Glade arrest, Roy Webb, 2816 W. Canal St. N., Belle Glade, was

Weapons offense charged

SOUTH BAY — South Bay police arrested a man for aggravated assault and carrying a concealed weapon, Wednesday night, April 4.

A man later identified as John Earl charged with six counts of armed robbery, aggravated assault and possession of a weapon.

Carney reported that at about 10:30 p.m., Sunday April 9, Webb allegedly robbed James and Christine Benjamin at 425 S.W. Ave.

E. Carney said Webb drew a gun, stole Mrs. Benjamin's purse, threatened her husband and then fled when Mrs. Benjamin escaped.

Carney arrested Webb at about 2:10 a.m. Monday.

Brown, 28, of South Bay was arrested at about 2:41 a.m. after officers said they saw him on N.W. 10th Avenue pointing a gun at Phillip Chastine, 20, also of South Bay.

Tempting thoughts

"There are several good protections against temptation, but the surest is cowardice," said Mark Twain.

Oscar Wilde said the "only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it."

We are faced with all sorts of temptation every day.

Those of us who are watching the waistline and the bathroom scales know all about temptation.

Is it okay today to have a donut, a bowl of ice cream, or big heaping plate of French fries? If I take just one of those things, will I be able to stop there?

Humans have always faced temptation. And while Mark Twain's prescription is often taken, more often we take Oscar Wilde's advice.

Temptation reared its ugly head in the third chapter of Genesis when the snake slithered over to Eve and invited her to eat from the tree at the center of the Garden of Eden.

Eve gave in to temptation and so did Adam. The rest is history.

We've been stuck with having to deal with temptation ever since.

Temptation comes in all shapes and sizes. Resisting over-eating may be the least of our worries. We can be tempted in other ways as well.

Usually when temptation is involved, no good can result. Seidom are we tempted to do things which are good for us. Temptation doesn't work like that.

The only thing we have to keep us on the straight and narrow is conscience. And sometimes conscience weakens.

Temptation is why we make New Years resolutions, why we pray for strength, flirt with self-discipline, and join fitness clubs.

There are many answers, none of them easy, to this problem which bedevils us.

"Few can review the days of their youth without recollecting temptations which shame rather virtue enabled them to resist," said Samuel Johnson.

Sam needn't have limited his philosophizing to the young. Like the need to take a bath, temptation is with us as long as we live.

We already have more answers than questions

People always seem so concerned about questions which are still to be answered. Doesn't anyone realize we already have more answers than we do questions?

It's my suspicion there's a lot of leftover answers lying around because the questions were too dumb to hang onto and got thrown out, leaving a lot of unquestioned answers to be dealt with.

A good example is, "Rome wasn't built in a day." At best that had to be an evasive reply to someone's asking, "How long did it take to build Rome?" Mr. Fast on his feet who really didn't know it took 3,000 years, four months and six days, fudged on the answer. If the question was, "What can you build in a day?" the questioner who was told Rome wasn't, probably cracked back, "Neither was my grandmother's outhouse, h... that's not what I asked you."

Who was the erudite trapper who enthralled the world with his observation that "there's more than one way to skin a cat?" Probably he was asked, "How many ways are there?" and instead of saying, "three or four," like anybody else would, he got off a smart remark:

It would have been better to ask Elizabeth

Ailsa Dewing

"And What Not?"

Barrett Browning, who would have replied, "How do thee skin a cat? Let me count the ways..." At least we'd have had an answer to a question.

I am not the first to take note of this problem. Benjamin Franklin, pondering on it one rainy Sunday afternoon, sat down to record all the unquestioned answers he could think of. He put them into a book and called it, "Poor Richard's Almanac." If he'd included the questions it would have been, "Rich Richard's Almanac." As it was, a friend inquired, "Wouldn't it be a better book if the questions were in it?" and Benjamin, with a snort of snuff, huffed, "Half a loaf is better than none." The friend went home and told his wife, "Old Ben's smart enough, but he sure is getting deaf. Let me tell you what he said when I asked him."

It may be that Descartes was a bit hard of hearing, too, when he left us his immortal words, "I think, therefore, I am." I suspect he was asked, "Who do you think you are?" (probably by his wife) and he thought she said, "How..." If he'd heard the question right he'd have said, "Rene Descartes" and eliminated three centuries of bad jokes that followed.

Along with answers that have no questions, we have answers that are too long to remember even though the question was a pretty good one. Take Hamlet's question: "To be or not to be?" Everybody knows the question but only a bunch of Shakespearean actors and some inept English teachers remember the answer because it goes on for at least a page and a half. If he'd said it in 25 words or less we'd know whether he answered yes or no, even though he did talk funny.

Answers for which there are no questions are called aphorisms, meaning they're general purpose answers. Like household cleaners they're equally at home in the kitchen and the bathroom or can be kept on the shelf in your work shop.

But in the school room, they can become something else if they're put to the test.

It's been done. Elementary school teachers, oversupplied with the things have tried them out on the children to see whether they're worth much (the aphorisms, not the kids). The way to do this is to frame a question from the answer, such as: "What should you never borrow from a friend?" Answers range from "his woman or his wheels" to "his is unwoman." Money is no longer up there at the top.

One youngster, asked to complete the sentence, "You can lead a horse to water but you can't make it..." replied, "Take a bath," and a little girl concluded "A bird in the hand is worth two" on a trip into the house to wash your hands." And so it goes. You can't teach an old dog new to get up on the bed or stop snarling at the mailman and the early bird gets his own breakfast. Early to bed and early to rise makes a man miss all the good TV shows.

It should be obvious we don't need any new questions. We've already got more answers than we know what to ask. And, remember, a soft answer may turneth away wrath, but there's nothing you can do with soft questions.

Pizza Hut opens for business

BELLE GLADE — Pizza Hut opened the doors of its new home, located on SR 441 in Belle Glade, Monday, April 9.

After dedication ceremonies 10:30 a.m., employees hit the pizza sauce, readying for their first customers.

The business, which employs 38 local residents either full or parttime, will be open from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m. Monday through Thursday. On Fridays and Saturdays the establishment will be open from 11 a.m. until 1 a.m. and on Sunday pizza will be served from noon until 11 p.m.

Bill Algeo, district manager for Pizza Hut, said he was very optimistic about the new branch. "This area is ripe for development," he said.

So far, the city, particularly government leaders, have received the new business very enthusiastically and professionally, Algeo said. City leaders attended a private bakeoff at the new establishment, Sunday night, April 8.

The opening of doors on Monday is the culmination of a project which began Jan. 15. The swift construction, Algeo said, was enabled by the pre-cut wood used in construction.

Manager of the local store is John Mitchell.

As part of Monday's ceremonies, Pastor Nick Kieschnick, St. Peter's Lutheran Church, dedicated the new business and local American Legion representatives, led by Commander Fred Yauchock, performed flag raising ceremonies.

Belle Glade Mayor Thomas Altman cut the ribbon of 101 S.I. bills, officially opening the restaurant for business. The ribbon was donated by Pizza Hut to the American Legion.

City commended for safety record

BELLE GLADE — The number of traffic accidents involving Belle Glade city vehicles was cut 43 percent in 1983, according to an insurance company report.

City commissioners were presented a plaque in recognition of their safety achievement, Monday night, April 9, by Ellen Harding, account representative for Allstate Insurance.

Harding said very few municipalities earn the first of its kind to be awarded to the city of Belle Glade. "The employees here have really done what is necessary to win this award," she said.

The city's 4.06 accident rate is nearly half the national average, Harding noted, adding that it was a significant reduction over last year's 7.04 rate.

The rate reflects the number of city vehicles, with the exception of police cars, involved in preventable accidents.

City Manager W.E. "Tom" Strang said all department heads and supervisors deserve credit for holding defensive driving and safety courses during the past year.

Ron Snyder, assistant director of public works, said his department began a safety course about a year ago, due to a "horrible run" of injuries.

Now the about 90 public works employees meet every Wednesday morning and discuss vehicle and job injury safety. In

Ft. Pierce team wins Black Gold Jubilee softball tourney

BELLE GLADE — A Fort Pierce team came out of the losers bracket to claim the championship in the Black Gold softball tournament, held Friday, April 6 through Sunday, April 8.

Treasure Coast Merchants won five games Sunday, beating Mace Sod of South Bay 5-4 and 4-3 to claim the double elimination crown. Fort Pierce finished the tourney with a 7-1 mark.

Three of the tourney's top four teams were from the Glades. Mace Sod finished second, the All-Stars, of Belle Glade, finished third and Glades General Hospital came in fourth.

Mike Underwood, assistant recreation director for the city of Belle Glade, reported that 18 teams competed in the tourney. "It was one of our best yet," he said.

Mace Sod's Sam Howe connected for six of the 54 homers hit over the weekend to gain the homerun award.

Fort Pierce came up through the losers bracket after a 12-1 lambasting at the hands of Mace Sod. Fort Pierce beat the All Stars 11-6 Sunday to gain another crack at the South Bay team, which had won four straight games including a 7-5 victory over the All Stars.

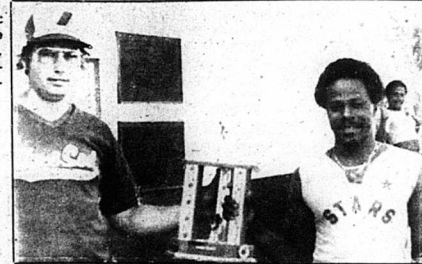

In the first game of the finals double header, Fort Pierce rode a sixth inning grand slam by Joey Calliao to come from behind and beat the South Bay team. Fort Pierce scored all five of its runs in that crucial sixth inning.

Timely defensive plays led Fort Pierce in the nightcap as on several occasions they snipped Mace Sod rallies in the bud. Fort Pierce took an early 1-0 lead in the championship game, but Mace Sod regained a 2-1 lead after two innings. Fort Pierce pushed three men across home plate in the third inning to assure victory. Mace Sod challenged in the fifth with one run, but could not manage the tying tally.

MACE SOD'S Pope McMullin accepts the second place trophy from Mike Underwood at the Black Gold softball tournament, Sunday.

MIKE UNDERWOOD, Belle Glade assistant recreation director, presents the Black Gold softball tourney third place award to David Bailey of the All-Stars, Belle Glade.

The Raiders scored 91.5 points to gain the tournament trophy, while runner up Clewiston managed 63.5 points. Pahokee finished fifth in the tourney behind Cypress Lakes and Fort Myers with 34 points.

Glades Central Coach Willie McDonald said the Raider's good showing in the field events complemented their usual excellence in the running events. Six Raider units gained first place honors.

Louis Oliver paced the competition in the 330-yard hurdles with a time of 40 seconds. Lawrence Duncan finished first in the high jump with a 6-foot-4 effort and John Frazier jumped 43 feet to win the triple jump.

The mile medley squad of Tim Sims, Allen, Aaron Leray and Antonio Holmes also finished first in a time of 3:39. The mile-relay team gave the Raiders another first place honor with a 3:25 effort. Mile relayers are Leray, Holmes, Thomas Stewart and Eric Smith.

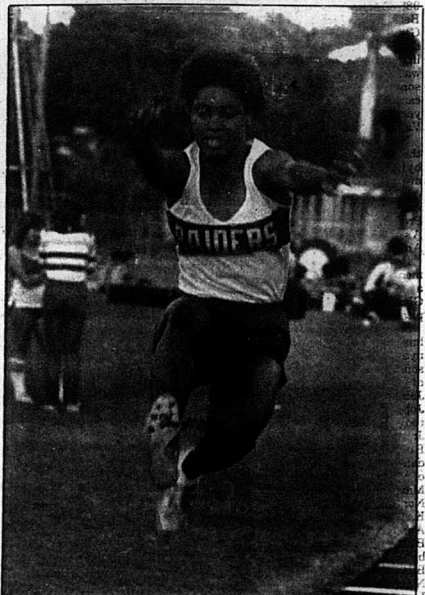

Pahokee Coach Antoine Russell said his team did fairly well in the very competitive meet, noting that many of the schools were considerably larger than Pahokee High. "I was pleased with the way the kids performed,"

The Raiders also won the 440 relay, the mile medley relay and the mile relay.

Pam Laws, Chequita Cato, Beverly Hickman, Aline Addie and Mary Pitts all had good meets. Rhodes said. Laws finished second in both the 100-yard dash and the long jump, while helping the mile medley jump to a third place finish.

A total of $448 was paid back to tourney winners. George Green and Bill Don, of Fort Lauderdale, pulled in 17-pounds, 10-ounces of bass to win a $240 first place check. Green and Don also produced the biggest bass with a 5-pound, 12-ounce fish.

Johnston signs with U. of Tampa

BELLE GLADE -- Glades Central Community High School's basketball standout Nate Johnston will be shooting his hoops for the University of Tampa next year.

Johnston, a 6-foot-7 senior in Belle Glade, signed a letter of intent to accept a full scholarship from the Division Two school. Johnston, an all-conference player, was a mainstay on this year's state tourney Raiders cage squad, averaging over nine points a game and also developing into a rebounding force.

Johnston, who visited the University of Tampa, said he was impressed with what he saw. He said he was a little nervous and excited about the chance to play college ball.

Githeliala Dolphy, Johnston's grandmother, said of the golden opportunity, "It's wonderful, what could be better."

Raider Coach Harold Taylor said, "This is a real good opportunity for Nate." Taylor stressed that the university's coaching staff has shown that they are willing to work with Johnston and help him develop as a player. He noted that the scholarship will cover Johnston's college expenses for up to five years.

Johnston, who two years ago was a part-time player for the Raider junior varsity, improved greatly over the last year and should continue to excel in college, Taylor said.

University of Tampa Assistant Coach Bill Bostick didn't hide his enthusiasm over his new recruit. "We think he's got the potential to be a big timer ... You just don't find big men like that," Bostick said.

Johnston said Johnston was still growing and could very well hit 6-foot-10 by the time he graduates from college.

With a strenuous basketball and weight schedule lined up, Johnston should really come into his own at Tampa, Bostick said. "In six months to a year, he's going to be hard to recognize," he added.

Johnston is projected as a forward in college, and Bostick said he has a chance at a starting position as a freshman.

The Raider center joins a rebuilding basketball program. The school is now entering its second year of existence, but is coming off a 20-11 season, the best college record in the state.

The squad is coached by Rick Schmidt.

Taylor said another Raider cage standout, Terry Givens is considering scholarships from several junior colleges. Givens will make a decision on which college to attend in the next few weeks, Taylor said.

Rhondy Weston, the third member of the Raiders basketball front line, will attend the University of Florida next year on a football scholarship.

Gene Duff wins Jubilee tennis championship

BELLE GLADE -- Starting off on a bad foot with the windy weather on Thursday, April 5, the Black Gold Jubilee tennis tournament finished strong over the weekend.

Jan Bottoms, event organizer, said some 40 entrants competed in the tourney, which was brought to a close Sunday, April 8.

Gene Duff of Belle Glade, won the men's singles event with Ken Buchanan, also of Belle Glade, finishing second.

Liz and Gene Duff won the mixed doubles event with the Clewiston team of Steve Coffman and Joan Kirkland finishing second.

Liz Duff and Sandra Dulany, Belle Glade, combined to take the women's doubles event. Myra McCroon and Peggy Wedgworth, Belle Glade, finished second.

Three father-son teams competed in the men's doubles and two of the family squads came out on top. Belle Glade's Phil and Phillip Dulany won the first place trophy, while Murray and Mark Brinson, of Pahokee, finished second.

9th annual 'Jesus is Lord' set in Clewiston

One of the Glades area's most important and moving spiritual events, "Jesus is Lord," returns to Clewiston's John B. Boy Auditorium Saturday, April 14, for the first of four 8 p.m. performances.

This ambitious production of the Easter story will also be presented April 17, 19, and 20.

1984 marks the ninth anniversary of the non-denominational program. Fifteen Clewiston, Belle Glade, and Moore Haven churches are represented in the cast and choir.

"Jesus is Lord" has long since moved past the stage of being proclaimed "bigger and better" this year than ever before.

As Walter Duke, who portrays Simon Peter, says, "I feel the level of excellence has always been there. It's amazing how it gets every year."

Writer/producer Elizabeth Bass says that each year the program is a bit different and that each year has its own "excitement and freshness."

Part of the power of "Jesus is Lord" is its ability to make the audience feel that it is at Gethsemane and Golgotha.

The music is always inspired and appropriate. The dramatic portion of the program fits seamlessly with the music. Actors approach their roles with reverence and humility.

Music for Jesus is Lord is all new this year. Among the 13 songs are such highlights as G. F. Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," Bill Saari soloing on "It Was Love," Dennis Goodwin soloing on "He's Alive!," and Louis Lillard soloing on "Were You There?"

It is the coupling of music by the 54 member choir with sensitive acting by the cast, led by Patrick Massey as Jesus, that causes goose flesh to rise and tears to well in eyes.

Mrs. Bass gives much of the credit for the excellence of the music this year to Dennis Goodwin. Underlining the music are the talented duo of Jenny Miller - organ and Paula Swaford - piano.

"It is something very precious" says Mrs. Bass. "We try to never settle for second best."

Most of those in the cast and choir see "Jesus is Lord" as a Christian witness.

PATRICK MASSEY portrays Jesus in Clewiston's production of the Easter story.

Little Mr. and Miss Black Gold selected Thursday at Center

By BRENDA BUNTING

BELLE GLADE - The Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center was filled to capacity for the first annual Little Mr. and Miss Black Gold, Thursday, April 5.

Approximately 60 children competed in the two categories, tiny division, ages two and three, and little division, ages four through six.

The event was sponsored by the Belle Glade Junior Women's Club. Contestants were judged on appearance and personality. Each child in the little division was asked a question.

The first place winner in the girls tiny division was Ashley Cunningham. First runner up was Aleasha Elrod and second runner up was Barbie Cunningham.

Israel Baez, III was chosen king in the boy's tiny division and Matthew Alston took first runner up. Parker Altman placed second runner up.

In the girl's little division, Bobbie Jo Jones was crowned queen. Leslie Woods was first runner up and Nicole Miller was second runner up.

Thomas Meeks was chosen king in the boy's little division and Brad Davis came in first runner up. Jason Cunningham was second runner up.

The kings and queens in both divisions will participate in the Black Gold Jubilee parade Saturday, April 14, according to Junior Women's Club spokesman Cindy Baez.

They will also be presented on stage at the Harvest Queen contest at 8 p.m. Friday, April 13.

Baez said "We felt it (the contest) was very successful. There were a few mistakes, but I thought it was most successful."

She said the Junior Women's Club will be making it an annual Black Gold event. "When we decided in February to do it," she said, "our goal was not to make money, but to make money in Black Gold."

She said that is why the club members decided not to charge admission to the event. She also added that next year the contest would probably not include two year olds and there was a possibility the event might be broken up into two nights, one for the three to four year olds and one for the five and six year olds.

"We want to extend our thanks to the community for their support," Baez said. "We are looking forward to next year."

The judges for the contest were Barbara Jamison, Jull St. Pierre, Jerry Robinson and Wilbur Thompson.

Jamison is a resident of Lake Worth and the director of the "Miss Palm Beach County Pageant". She has also judged other pageants such as "Junior Miss Orange Bowl".

Pierre is the reigning "Miss Palm Beach County". She is also a runner up in the "Miss Michigan State" contest.

Robinson is employed by U.S. Sugar Corporation in Bryant. He had judged numerous other contests including "Stars of Tomorrow", "Miss Starshine Twirl-A-Roma", "Miss Starshine" at the University of Central Florida and "Little Miss Melbourne".

Thompson is a detective in Lake Worth. He served as the director of the "Miss Palm Beach County Pageant" for 20 years and has judged many contests including the state "Miss America Pageant".

The mistress of ceremonies was a former Belle Glade resident, Pat Robinson. She is also a former "Miss Palm Beach County" and "Miss Lake Worth". She has directed the Palm Beach County "Stars of Tomorrow" pageant and several "Miss Majorette of Florida" contests.

Grant Averill of Averill's Studio, Belle Glade, took pictures at the contest, according to Baez. He will have prints available to show any parents of the participants who are interested in photographs, on Friday, April 13 at the studio.

Kids angle for fish

BELLE GLADE - The weather was good and the fish were biting for the sixth annual Black Gold Jubilee Children's Fishing Tournament, Friday, April 6.

It was also the largest ever turnout, with 44 children participating. Trophies were given in three age groups; the one-year-old to four-year-old division, five to eight year olds and nine through 12 years.

This year, trophies were given only in the category of largest fish, with first and second place prizes awarded. In the previous years, trophies were awarded for largest, smallest and largest number of catch.

Coordinator Sonny Stein said he was pleased with the large turnout at the event. He said Kelly's Bait and Tackle Shop in Belle Glade donated all of the worms and crickets again this year for the contest.

In the little division, first place went to three-year-old Ashley Cunningham. Traci Moss, four, and Stephanie Stein, three, tied for second place.

Tammy Whalen, eight, took first place in the middle division with the largest fish in the tournament. Her catch weighed in at one pound, six ounces. Six year old Lou Entrialgo took second place.

In the nine to 12 year old division, Chris Bunting, 12, took first place. Melissa Vickers, 9, took second.
